

Charles Enright MSc

Email: Charlie.enright@geoscope-services.co.uk

EDUCATION

MSc Forensic Archaeology and Anthropology, Pass, Cranfield University, 2009 – 2010.

BSc Archaeological and Forensic Sciences, 2.1, Bournemouth University, 2005 - 2008.

MEMBERSHIP, ACCREDITATIONS AND OTHER RELEVANT QUALIFICATIONS

- Practitioner grade of the Chartered Institute for Archaeologists (upgrade in progress).
- Level 3 NVQ in Archaeological Practice.
- Management of Research Projects in the Historic Environment (English Heritage) course.
- Expert Witness Training (Bond and Solon).
- CSCS qualified.
- First Aid at Work.

PROFESSIONAL WORK EXPERIENCE

Company: Self Employed Archaeologist

From: 01/09/16 To: Ongoing

Responsibilities: Providing costings for work. Building external relationships. Assessing clients aims to prepare project specifications and writing technical reports. Adhering to various organisations protocols and SOPs. Liaising with clients and providing advice on cultural management issues. Ensuring standards are maintained. Conducting optical and geophysical surveys. Achievements: Successful completion of various projects including international fieldwork. Being flexible and adaptable to various SOPs. Liaising with individuals with differing opinions on cultural heritage.

Company: AOC Archaeology Group

From: 28/09/15 To: 01/09/16

Position: Project Officer

Responsibilities: Management of projects to within defined specifications, budgets and timetables. Management of project teams ensuring a co-operative, safe and successful work environment. Production of reports of technical and academic competence. Ensure that the company's standards of performance within projects are maintained and policies implemented. Ensure company's project design guidelines are adhered to. Designing and preparing project specifications. Attending site meetings with clients and providing updates on fieldwork progress. Supervising fieldwork. Achievements: Experience at supervisory level in archaeological fieldwork including management of large scale excavations. Successful management of large scale evaluations and excavations in a thorough and professional manner. Identified and secured resources as required for projects. Production of technical reports. Familiarity with ArcGIS. Preparation and production of professional archaeological reports and illustrations. Understanding of relevant legislation in England.

Company: Dyfed Archaeological Trust

From: 07/05/14 To: 25/09/15

Position: Field Archaeologist

Responsibilities: Designing and preparing project specifications and conducting various projects from walkover surveys to geophysical surveys to evaluations/watching briefs to full scale excavations. Producing desk based assessments and environmental impact assessments including conducting Historic research and map regression exercises. Using the HER to conduct research. Project planning and scheduling including liaison with clients and site contractors. Staff supervision during fieldwork. Concluding projects by producing technical reports. Providing staff training. Achievements: Well-rounded knowledge of British archaeology and archaeological techniques. Understanding of archaeological techniques and appropriate selection of archaeological methodologies and designing archaeological mitigation strategies. Understanding archaeological problems, excavation, recording and planning. Successful coordination of all aspects of project planning from implementation to conclusion. Experience in supervising staff. Ability to provide reports in writing and articulate findings verbally and succinctly. Familiarity with GIS. Experience in desk based assessments, watching briefs, evaluations, excavations geophysical and topographical surveys. Proficient in using the HER, historic maps and other archaeological resources. Understanding of Planning Policy in Wales. Familiar with Historic Landscape Characterisation in Wales.

Company: National Trust

From: 04/04/2013 To: 04/04/14

Position: Community Archaeologist

Responsibilities: Identify and maximise opportunities for public involvement in community archaeology projects. Promote and advocate the work of the National Trust. Maintain positive relationships with communities, clients and other professional bodies. Develop, deliver and support projects providing supervision and capacity training to volunteers. Presenting results of fieldwork to community groups.

Achievements: Successful delivery and administration of community projects increasing public participation. Experience gained in conducting and supervising fieldwork including geophysical surveys, earthwork recording, photographic surveys, and EDM surveys. Responsible for managing all aspects of projects including writing project proposals, organising volunteers, conducting risk assessments, implementing projects and producing technical reports on findings to conclude projects. Presenting results in various written formats and oral presentations. Attending CPI meetings and archaeological plenaries.

Company: Cranfield University

From: 11/01/2011 To: 31/12/11

Position: Geophysical Surveyor

Responsibilities: Assist in field work for commercial and research projects across the UK and abroad. Collect, analyse and interpret geophysical data. Produce professional reports. Assist on modules of the MSc program in Forensic Archaeology i.e. preparing practical's, mentoring and supervising students in archaeological excavations and recording activities. Achievements: Commercial experience. Setting up and conducting site surveys. Identification of a broad range of archaeological features. Compare/contrast and selecting appropriate techniques and methodologies. Detailed understanding of the advantages and limitations of survey techniques. Working alone with minimal supervision using own judgement and autonomy. Successful management of projects and organisation of own caseload. Liaising with clients. Training non-professionals. Production of technical reports. Broad understanding of British archaeology.

OTHER RELEVANT EXPERIENCE

Company: Cranfield Recovery and Identification of Conflict Casualties (CRICC)

Dates: Ad Hoc

Position: Team member

Responsibilities: Assisting in the excavation and recovery of WWII MIA in Central Pacific and Europe. Working alongside third party organisations and adhering to SOPs. Achievements: Long term deployment overseas. Adapting archaeological techniques to a forensic methodology.

Company: Alecto Forensics

Dates: Ad Hoc

Position: Contract geophysical surveyor and assistant forensic archaeologist

Responsibilities: Provide technical support in the geophysical survey and assist the lead forensic archaeologist in the search for suspected human remains. Liaising with crime scene personnel. Designing strategy plans. Achievements: Hands on experience using archaeological techniques in a forensic context. Experience gained in archaeological search methodologies. Experience in investigation planning. Understanding the role of photography in an investigation. Knowledge of crime scene infrastructure. Experience using electronic surveying methods to record crime scenes. Knowledge of the various roles involved in a forensic archaeological investigation.

Company: Cranfield Forensic Institute, Cranfield University

Dates: Ad Hoc

Position: Contract Archaeologist

Responsibilities: Supervising and mentoring students in archaeological investigations, particularly the forensic excavation of a mass grave scenario. Teaching excavation and survey techniques for complex forensic investigations. Achievements: Developed a new methodology for surveying complex scenes. Skilled in teaching students at various levels of understanding. Able to verbally articulate complex issues to a range of audiences.

Company: Union Council Soviet Jews (Ukraine)

Dates: May 2012 to Ongoing

Position: Archaeological and Forensic Consultant

Responsibilities: Provide archaeological and forensic advice to assist with locating Holocaust era mass graves. Providing advice on management of cultural heritage assets. Designing Fieldwork strategies. Analysis of evidence e.g. Aerial photographs, witness testimonies, maps etc. Landscape interpretation. Organise and implement deployment to Ukraine to conduct fieldwork. Client liaison written and verbal. Report preparation and presentation of results. Preparing costings. All aspects of project management and logistical planning i.e. Travel, accommodation, risk assessments etc. Ensuring project specifications are met at the end of fieldwork. Achievements: Delivery of two successful team deployments to Ukraine. Initiating and managing fieldwork. Experience of working on culturally sensitive sites whilst being mindful of local communities and sensitivity issues. Project planning and logistical preparation. Archaeological research and analysis of various resources including witness testimonies, historic maps and aerial photograph interpretation to identify high priority areas for field work investigation.

Skills

- Optical surveying
- Excavation
- Environmental Impact Assessments
- Report writing
- Photography
- Site record collating and archiving
- Geophysical surveying
- Heritage management
- Community engagement
- Technical drawings
- Project planning
- Artefact recovery, recording and storage
- Heritage legislation
- GIS and CAD
- Desk Based Assessments
- Written Scheme of Investigations
- Management
- Context recording
- Research